

SUNDANCE GEOCACHE ROUNDUP

You're in outlaw territory, stranger. Better make sure you check in with The Sundance Kid. He and Butch Cassidy will get right angry-might even take after you with their wild Bunch friends if you don't.

You'll find the Kid at the Crook County Museum and be sure to get your photo take with him. Treasure hunting, you say? It'll be healthier for you if it's not the gold I'm after. Geocaching?

Don't know nothing about that. Just the same, me and Ol' Shep will be watching you. We know how to deal with claim jumpers.

What is GEOCACHING?

Geocaching is a global high-tech treasure hunt where participants use a combination of online clues and GPS coordinates to find “caches” (hidden containers). The caches are often hidden in unique and interesting places participants may never have discovered on their own, but some are concealed as mundane objects in plain sight. Currently there are more than 1 million active participants and approximately 985,000 caches hidden in more than 100 countries.

How to Find a Cache

Go to www.geocaching.com

Register for a free basic membership.

Click “Hide & Seek a Cache.”

Search for the caches in this trail using the “GC Number” listed in the passport.

Enter the coordinates of the geocache into your GPS device.

Use your GPS device to assist you in finding the hidden geocache.

Carefully search for the cache showing respect for your surroundings.

Sign the logbook, fill in the passport and return the geocache to its original location.

Share your geocaching stories and photos online.

Geocaching Etiquette

Obey local laws. Follow regulations governing the use of roads and other public areas. Obtain permission before entering private property. Leave No Trace. Practice “Cache In Trash Out.” Clean up litter along the way and don’t leave any behind. This helps keep trails clean.

Respect the geocache. Replace the container exactly as you found it. Log your find. Sign the logbook and share your experience online. If you take something from the cache, leave something of equal or greater value.

Keep ‘em moving. Only take a trackable item if you are willing to help it travel from geocache to geocache.

EXPLORE SUNDANCE

Let the name Sundance evoke images of rowdy Butch Cassidy & the Sundance Kid leading the Wild Bunch on the longest stretch of train and bank robberies in Old West history. Then imagine serene Native American Villagers encamped at the base of majestic Sundance Mountain where they performed the sacred Sun Dance. Immerse yourself in our true west story where outlaws ran wild, and two incomparable cultures were about to collide.

The Sundance area offers uncrowded, four-season outdoor activities in over 200,000 acres of the Bearlodge District of the Black Hills National Forest. In the community, excellent restaurants and relaxing bars, motels, resorts and quaint retail shops await you at the end of the day.

Be sure to visit the Crook County Museum in its new location and have your picture taken with the Sundance Kid, in the town where The Kid got his name!
